
Icons In User Lists

Posted by browneye253 - 2005/11/30 13:33

I would like to have icons appear in the list instead of the actual data. For instance, if a user has picture in their profile I would like a camera to appear. If they have filled out a biography page I would like a clipboard or something to appear.

I run an alumni website and some of the younger kids have some tasteless stuff in their profiles that the older alumni don't want to see when they look at the user lists, but I still want to indicate what information the user has provided.

Thanks,

Paul

Interesting.. i would like a count on all fields that are not empty and sort the profiles with the most data on top.. this also needs that check if a field was used.. only in your case you wanna output an icon if not empty..

I guess we both should go log our feature requests over at developer.joomla.org

Is this something I would approach the Joomla developers for or the CB developers? I was referring to the lists that you make in CB.

My other thing with the lists is I would like to be able to have fields appear next to eachother instead of stacked on top of eachother.

For instance I collect the maiden name of the women on my site and I would like to have the list display

Maiden, First or Maiden (Last), First

Maiden being a custom field I've added. Is there a way to modify the list output to accomplish this?

You request it on the CB project tracker.

Im not sure if you can do this with the CSS file. (sorry) You could check that out and if not request the feature.
